

REPUBLICAN HOPES OUTLINED BY LODGE

Declares New Standard Bearer Will Be Faithful to Finest Traditions of Party.

WOULD EXTEND HAGUE

Senator Assails Wilson Administration in Speech Notifying Harding of Nomination.

MARION, Ohio, July 22.—Senator Henry Cabot Lodge, in delivering the notification address of the Republican Presidential nomination to Senator Warren G. Harding here to-day, said:

"We are assembled here as a committee representing the States, Territories and possessions of the United States to make to you formal announcement of your nomination for President of the Republic on June 12 last, at Chicago, by the Republican National Convention. This duty is to us as pleasing as it is honorable, but we are also deeply conscious of its far-reaching importance. We fully appreciate that what you say to us to-day will not only be read and pondered by all the American people within the confines of the United States but also by all other civilized nations. Here to-day you will chart the course to be followed by the Republican party in the great electoral contest which lies before us and will declare your purposes and those of the party you lead when the authority of government is more committed to our keeping.

"We await this declaration untroubled by any doubts and with the most entire confidence. All who are familiar with your character and career and most especially those who have taken part with you in public service know beyond a persuasive that you are a patriotic American, imbued with the spirit of the great leaders of the past, of Washington, Lincoln and Roosevelt, whose services to the American people have become forever memorable in our history. You will always, and instinctively, in meeting the difficult questions and weighing responsibilities which confront you, think with complete unselfishness of your country and your country's interests first, a high qualification for an exalted office not too familiar to us of late and therefore peculiarly necessary at this moment.

"You will, we are certain, be ever faithful to the finest traditions of the Republican party, and at the same time you are equally sure that you are wholeheartedly and open-minded, in sympathy with the best movements of the time, looking forward to the future and its needs, but never unmindful of the great principles upon which the builders of the Republic laid the foundation of our Government. Your public life has been aimed to us and all your fellow citizens that you believe in the system of government designed by the framers of the Constitution. They established a representative democracy and had no sympathy with any scheme which would turn the Government of the United States into an autocracy based upon a plebiscite and with all the intervening representative features disregarded or effaced.

Government of Laws.

"You have abundantly shown your unwavering conviction that the Government of the United States should be one of laws and not of men, and that the three branches of that Government should all work together in the exercise of the powers conferred upon them separately by the Constitution, for the common purpose of advancing the general welfare of the people. The makers of the Constitution intended to coordinate the three great elements of Government, and strove to guard against either usurpation or trespass by one branch at the expense of the other two. In that spirit, we all know well, you will enter upon your great responsibility.

"Domestic and economic questions of extreme complexity and difficulty must be dealt with at once in such a way as to meet the needs of the time. We shall not attempt to discuss these questions in any detail, because we know that you will declare your policies in accordance with the principles of the Republican party, but also with the principles recently declared by the Republican convention at Chicago. It is not for us to enumerate them to you, for it is to you that we look to set forth the proper policies to be pursued by the Republican party both in the campaign and when charged with the responsibility of administration and legislation.

"Our immediate duty and that of all Republicans and all true Americans who are thinking of the problems and perils of the present and of the future is to give you such generous and complete support that when you take up the duties of the great office for which you have been nominated, you will find a House and Senate in full sympathy with your purposes and ready to aid you in every way in carrying them to fulfillment.

"The present situation, however, brings with it far-reaching questions of foreign policy to a degree never known in our previous history. At our own doors we have Mexico in a state of disorder and disintegration to which our Government has unhappily most liberally contributed. Here is a grave responsibility not to be evaded or escaped. We rightly insist upon the supremacy in the American hemisphere of the Monroe Doctrine, which was declared by us in order to guard the safety of the United States and save the New World so far as possible from the wars and misfortunes of the Old.
We justly demand the abstention of Europe from any interference with American questions, but this doctrine of peace brings with it not only its benefits but its duties.

"In defense of freedom and civilization we entered upon our own invasion rights we entered upon the war with Germany and although we were tardy in taking part in that great conflict we came upon the field of action in time to turn the scale for right and liberty.
The content with adding Europe to bring to pass the peace which all desired after victory was won, Mr. Wilson undertook to make us members of an alliance with foreign Powers indefinite in extent and containing provisions which threatened the independence, the sovereignty and the safety of the United States. This effort on the part of the President was assailed by the action of the Republicans of the Senate, who proposed protecting reservations which were defeated together with the treaty itself. In that work, you, sir, took a conspicuous part and we know that you were in full accord with the belief of your Republican colleagues that the League of Nations as proposed by Mr. Wilson and upon which he and his party still insist ought never to be accepted by the American people. We have been and are quite ready to join in agreement with other nations, for the extension of the Hague conventions, for the upbuilding and codification of international law and the establishment of a world court of justice, for international conferences in regard to nonjusticiable questions, and for arrangements to bring about a general reduction of armaments.

Is Republican Tradition.

"All these constructive measures are in accord with the traditional policy of the Republican party which has done so much in the past and which we are quite ready to follow in the future.
International arbitration. But when we are called upon to become an integral part of a permanent alliance of foreign powers that the youth of the country can be summoned by foreign nations to fight and die in quarrels not their own, to engage ourselves in all the conflicts and disputes of Europe, when we are absolutely decline the proposition. We stand for the policies of Washington and the doctrine of Monroe, and against the internationalism and the permanent alliance with foreign nations which the President, if the world needs us as they needed us in 1917 we shall not fall in our duty, but we can help other nations far better if we are free and untrammeled and do not permit our strength and our resources to be wasted and worn away and the lives of our young men to be sacrificed in endless strife with which we have no ac-cern.

"Such has been the policy of the Republican party as represented in the Senate and such its policy will remain.
We are certain that you who helped so largely to frame this policy will, when the Executive authority comes into your hands, carry it out in such manner that you can fulfill all our responsibilities to the Republic without binding ourselves by any obligations to a league which as submitted by the President is but another name for the evil combination which was attempted a hundred years ago by the ill-omened Holy Alliance.

"No national campaign for the Presidency has ever involved graver issues than this one, which now lies before us.
Upon you, sir, will rest the great duty and heavy burden of Executive authority. We look to you in full confidence to lead us and the people of our beloved country out from the darkness of confusion which the war has brought upon mankind into the light which shines upon a nation where peace reigns and the love of justice, of law and of order rules in the hearts of the people. Then we can again take up the work of advancing the United States along the broad road that leads to success, the road which we have followed for more than a century. Truly, indeed, we shall not only rise to still loftier heights of achievement for ourselves, but be enabled to render the largest and finest service to humanity."

May Press Convention to Avoid Recommendation for Senatorship.

James W. Wadsworth, Jr., United States Senator, has become such a storm center in the New York State Republican situation that he will address a formal letter to the unofficial State convention. In all probability, asking that body to make no recommendation for designation for the nomination for the Senate.

This action has the approval of strong supporters of the Senator, as well as those who are anxious to see him turned down for renomination. Particularly have women organization advisers urged that the best way to handle the situation is to permit those who are opposed to the Senator to have their chance to defeat him in a free primary fight. They feel that if he wins the nomination unaided by the recommendation of the unofficial convention the women will feel satisfied to support him in the campaign.
If, however, they cherish the idea that organization aid pulled him through in an unfair way, they may seek or vote for the Democratic candidate.

Mrs. William E. Wilkinson, a woman leader of the Eleventh Assembly district, Manhattan, from which Miss Mary Garrett Hay will be a delegate to the convention, was quoted yesterday as saying Miss Hay would not fight Wadsworth on the floor. It is believed she has received some assurance that the Senator will not be an issue in the convention.

Those who are opposed to the convention making any recommendations for nomination assert that friends of Nathan L. Miller are entirely responsible for such an idea. Miller, they say, would not be willing to go into a free and open primary fight. Therefore his backers want to give him the advantage of being formally recommended by the organization.

"If Miller is such a big man," said Senator George F. Thompson yesterday, "why doesn't he take the scratch in the primaries without any advantage over the rest of us? If he is the biggest man he will win and we will support him."

"I believe that two-thirds of the Republicans in the State want the unofficial convention to recommend a ticket," said Representative B. H. Snell, chairman of the executive committee of the State Committee. "Such a course is likely to obviate the bitterness of a primary fight, and that is why I am for it.
I have no doubt we will win this fall, but we are going to have a stiff fight and do not want to take any chances of animosities within the organization."

It was not true, Mr. Snell asserted, that he was favoring any candidate.
His delegates in St. Lawrence county were selected regardless of their personal preferences. Some of the delegates for Miller, some for Speaker Sweet and some for Secretary of State Hugo.

William M. Bennett, past master of the art of running in the primaries against the selections of the organization, had a long conference with Senator Thompson yesterday. He would not deny he had been called in for expert advice, but said he had no intention of going to the Saratoga convention, not being a delegate.

"Third Party" Plans Campaign.

CLEVELAND, July 22.—A conference of the officials and prominent members of the new Farmers-Labor party has been called to meet in New York next Tuesday to make preparations for the Presidential campaign, Max S. Hayes, Vice-Presidential nominee of the new party, announced to-day.

HARDING ACCEPTS WILSON CHALLENGE

Acceptance Speech Assures President Square Fight
on League Issue

Special to THE SUN AND NEW YORK HERALD.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—If there has been any lingering doubt in the minds of anybody that President Wilson would fall to get what he asked for in the treaty fight, a clean cut campaign issue between those who believe in an American peace and those who would drag this country into an alliance with the military powers of Europe, it has been removed by the speech of Senator Warren G. Harding accepting the Republican Presidential nomination. That is the view of politicians of both parties here to-night.

Republicans are saying jubilantly that the declarations of Senator Harding that he stands for "American nationality and unimpaired and unendangered," that he promises a "formal and effective peace as soon as a Republican Congress can pass its declaration for a Republican executive to sign," and that he wants "a new association" of nations in place of the Wilson league, show unmistakably where he stands on the subject which President Wilson stubbornly has insisted shall outweigh all others in the campaign.

Democrats here who believe with William J. Bryan and other leaders of their party that the country is opposed to the unreserved Wilson league covenant are forced to admit that Senator Harding has accepted the Wilson challenge. But they are not jubilant over this fact. They are afraid of the league as a campaign issue. They are sorry the Wilson steam roller in San Francisco was able to compel the adoption of the treaty plank written by Mr. Wilson and carried to the Democratic National Convention in the vast pocket of Senator Glass of Virginia, chief engineer of the steam roller.

All along the Democratic politicians who circulate in and around the White House have hoped the Republicans would get into a snarl over the League of Nations. Their last hope now is gone.
Everybody here realizes that Senator Harding has stated his position on the equal of that of every other country.

able to the Republicans in Washington.
They see in his dignified treatment of all the great domestic issues of the campaign, his clean cut pronouncements on labor, profiteering, finances and party Government as against one man domination and his warning against abridgment of the right of free speech and assembly, a campaign document that can be used to the greatest advantage by the Republican speakers during the remainder of the campaign. They say Senator Harding has made his position so clear that it will be hard for Gov.
Cox to straddle much longer on the league, prohibition and other important questions.

THOS. SPELLACY MAY SUCCEED ROOSEVELT

Hard to Fill Jobs—Democrats Fear Being Turned Out.

WASHINGTON, July 22.—The Wilson Administration in its declining days is meeting difficulty in passing out Government jobs which ordinarily would be classified as most attractive offers. The trouble already experienced in this direction is likely to increase soon, for many persons now in Government service are said to contemplate leaving before March 4.

The trouble in finding takers for Government posts arises from the belief which seems to prevail even among "deserving Democrats" that the next President will be a Republican and that their chance of office would be very short.

The same belief seems to be influencing men already in office who desire to get out while they can do so gracefully.

One of the most important posts to be filled is that of Assistant Secretary of War, vacated by Benedict Crowell. It has been without an occupant for some time. Franklin D. Roosevelt is soon to transfer his Vice-Presidential campaign headquarters from the Navy Department to some other place, and it will be necessary to have a man who can at least sit at his desk.

Reports were circulated about Washington to-day that Thomas Spellacy, an Assistant Attorney General, was to get Roosevelt's place. When these reports were carried to Spellacy he seemed greatly disturbed and declared it was his ambition to get back to private life as quickly as possible. He did not say, however, that he would flatly turn down the post.

Message Leaves $120,000 Estate.

TRENTON, N. J., July 22.—The will of Samuel W. Gordon, negro messenger for New Jersey Governors for forty-six years, who died July 11, was probated yesterday by Surrogate Walter Madden.
The estate is estimated to be worth $120,000 and is left to the widow, Mrs.
Ida J. Gordon, with the provision that she maintain a home for her late husband's sister. At the death of both the estate will be divided among Gordon's three children. Included in the personal property is a collection of antiques, in which Gordon had been an extensive dealer.

Financial Districts Old and New

Wall Street, in 1789, the seat of the Government of the Nation, is still the pulse which records the heart-beats of Business and Financial America.

Wall Street is the "hub" of the Financial District of New York, which gradually is overlapping the Insurance, Jewelry and Legal Districts, thereby forcing the exodus of these and other large interests.

This, together with the distribution of the City's population to all points on the Compass, has created an insistent demand for an important business and financial district uptown.

The heart and centre of this district is the Grand Central Terminal Zone, North of East 42nd Street.

Here, in answer to the overwhelming demand for office space,

The New Thirty-One Story
Mortgage Free
Park-Madison Building

is to be erected on the blocks between 46th and 47th Streets, Madison and Park Avenues.

The Park-Madison Building will:
Supply office space on single floors, in large units of 10,000 to 60,000 sq. ft.

Be one of the largest office buildings in the world.
Dominate the uptown business centre.

Be erected, and held, absolutely free of mortgages.
Be co-operatively owned, and managed.

Supply office space, of the highest class, at a price considerably less than prospective occupants could possibly construct a building for themselves.

Eliminate future rental payments by the reservation of a sufficient amount of space for renting, the revenue from which, it is estimated, will pay all operating expenses and leave a surplus.
